Various postal stationery contains the words “Bridge of Friendship” in connection with advertising the 1980 Olympic Games in Moscow (later boycotted by Western countries because of the USSR’s invasion of Afghanistan). Such postal stationery is not listed here.

Verschiedene Ganzsachen enthalten die Worte „Brücke der Freundschaft“ in Verbindung mit der Werbung für die Olympischen Spiele 1980 in Moskau (später von den westlichen Staaten wegen des Einmarsches der UdSSR in Afghanistan boykottiert). Solche Ganzsachen sind hier nicht aufgeführt.

Divers entiers postaux contiennent les mots « Pont de l’amitié » en relation avec la publicité pour les Jeux olympiques de Moscou de 1980 (boycottés plus tard par les pays occidentaux en raison de l’invasion de l’Afghanistan par l’URSS). De tels entiers postaux ne sont pas répertoriés ici.

Varios artículos de papelería postal contienen las palabras „Puente de la Amistad“ en relación con la publicidad de los Juegos Olímpicos de 1980 en Moscú (posteriormente boicoteados por los países occidentales debido a la invasión de Afganistán por la URSS). Este tipo de material postal no figura aquí.

Currency reform

In the early 1990s, inflation set in in Bulgaria, so that on July 1, 1997, the currency was pegged to it using a currency board at a rate of 1,000 lev for 1 German mark. On July 5, 1999, the change was made to the new Lev for 1,000 old Leva. This resulted in a 1:1 tie to the Deutsche Mark. The international currency code for the old lev was BGL; the code for the new Lev is BGN.

Währungsreform

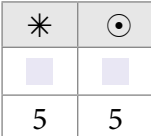

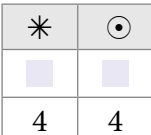

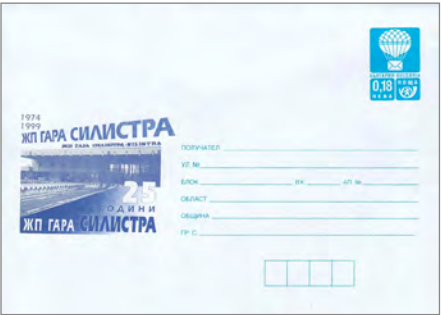

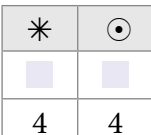

In den frühen 1990er Jahren setzte in Bulgarien eine Inflation ein, sodass die Währung am 1. Juli 1997 im Verhältnis 1000 Lew für 1 Deutsche Mark mittels eines Currency Boards an diese gebunden wurde. Zum 5. Juli 1999 wurde auf den neuen Lew für 1000 alte Lewa umgestellt. Daraus resultierte eine 1:1-Bindung an die Deutsche Mark. Der internationale Währungscode für den alten Lew war BGL; der Code für den neuen Lew ist BGN. ^{WIKIPEDIA}.

Réforme monétaire

Au début des années 1990, l'inflation s'est installée en Bulgarie, de sorte que le 1er juillet 1997, la monnaie y a été rattachée au moyen d'une caisse d'émission au taux de 1 000 lev pour 1 mark allemand. Le 5 juillet 1999, le nouveau Leva a été modifié pour 1 000 anciens Leva. Cela a abouti à une égalité de 1:1 avec le Deutsche Mark. Le code monétaire international de l'ancien lev était BGL ; le code du nouveau Lev est BGN.

Reforma monetaria

A principios de la década de 1990, la inflación se apoderó de Bulgaria, de modo que el 1 de julio de 1997, la moneda se vinculó a ella mediante una caja de conversión a un tipo de cambio de 1.000 Lev por 1 marco alemán. El 5 de julio de 1999 se realizó el cambio al nuevo leva por 1.000 levas antiguas. Esto resultó en un empate 1:1 ante el marco alemán. El código de moneda internacional para el antiguo Lev era BGL; el código para el nuevo Lev es BGN.
